AGRICULTURE.

SHEEP.

It has been observed, that the most violent snow storms generally follow a calm, and that their approach is heralded by a smooth, oily looking cloud bank, that appears in the south western horizon, some ten or twelve hours before the storm commences.

It is yet a mooted question, whether sheds are beneficial to sheep in moderately temperate climate. However this may be, they are no doubt of great advantage with us, at least in extreme cold or wet weather. If they are not provided, shelter at least sufficient to protect sheep from drifting snow should be. A high wall, unless there is a space to the windward of it covered with bushes, trees, or some obstables that will catch and confine the drifting snow, is the worst place possible for sheep to lie under in a violent storm. Under such a wall, they will probably be covered many feet in depth, and if the snow falls wet and heavy, they will be very likely to perish. It is true, if the snow falls lightly, it may cover sheep to a great depth without smothering them. Their warm breath ascends and thus keeps open a small breathing hole in the snow, sufficiently to afford enough fresh air to keep the sheep alive for some time. One of your Committee, once owned a sheep that was thus confined for twenty-one days, during which period it had devoured its own wool as far as it could reach; it was not discovered until the snow melted partially away. It was taken out still alive, dressed with a garment and carefully nursed, and finally entirely recovered and lived many years after. But it is not safe or expedient to depend upon such contingencies.

Inexperienced keepers of sheep sometimes deceive themselves by a false system of generalizing. A farm has (for instance) been stocked lightly; through the summer and fall, with neat stock, cows, &c. The commencement of winter finds it covered with a thick coat of grass. Put fifty sheep on such a farm of 100 acres, occasionally throw them a handful of hay when they cannot come to the ground because of snow, and they will in all probability come out fat in the spring. This number of sheep, find a sufficiency of food for their support on the ground; but let 200 sheep be put on this farm, under the same circumstances and care for them only in the same way as was done for the fifty, and the greater part of them will die before spring. For this same reason, almost any farmer can keep a small flock of sheep successfully, but the care and skill necessary to insure the well being of a large flock, is vastly greater. At the commencement of the last fall month, a little grain should be given sheep every day, even if it is not more than half a gill each at first, which should be gradually increased through winter until after they lamb. Good well dried English hay, corn stalks or other wholesome fodder, should be given them at least twice a day. To prevent waste, this should be fed in racks or mangers. Roots of almost all kinds, are excellent food for sheep. In England, they are considered all important, especially for fatening them. There large quantities of round turnips are fed from the ground, in the winter, which is generally so mild as not to materially injure the turnip. Swede's turnips are also raised in England, in great quantities, and stored for winter and spring feeding, of both sheep and cattle. A turnip crop, if removed from the field, is thought greatly to exhaust the land; but if fed upon it, the soil is made the better for the crop. A heavy crop of turnips, eaten on the ground, is considered in England a good preparation for a crop of wheat. Where the soil is rich and the season favorable, very good crops of turnips may be raised by mixing the seed with hay seed, and to sow it with oats. After the crop of oats is taken off, the turnips have room to grow, and frequently attain to a large size. Another way is, to sow the turnip-seed in corn fields, at the second hoeing of corn; they do not then interfere materially with the culture of the corn, neither do they get large enough to seriously affect the soil until the corn has ripened. One of your Committee has pursued both these methods for many years with good success, (to insure which, the soil must be rich and the season moist,) and has sometimes raised in this way, more than a thousand bushels in a season, which he has been accustomed to feed off the ground, both to cattle and sheep, late in the fall and early in the winter, after the grass begins to fall and before the severity of winter commences. It is surprising how little waste is made in this way; every turnip, top and all, is eaten off, and again returned to the land, which thus, instead of being impoverished by the crop, is really enriched. The few shells of the turnips that have not been reached by the sheep, can readily be struck from the ground by a blow from a hoe, and the sheep will follow in the path of the men so employed, and make a clean sweep of the whole.

To Destroy Aphides or Plant Lice. Dissolved one ounce of carbonate of ammonia in one quart of water, and apply it to the plants by means of a common garden syringe.

POETRY.

From Bentley's Miscellany.

A VALEDICTION.

As flowers that bud and bloom before us,
They droop in languor and decay,
As clouds that form their bright shapes o'er us,
Then speed their trackless course away,

As sparkling waves we watch advancing,
That melt in foam beneath our gaze,
As sunlight o'er the waters glancing,
That smiles, and then withdraws its rays

As summer insects, to their night-homes wending,
Sweep by us with a hum of melody,
As gentle showers on the earth descending,
Gem for a fleeting space each shrub and tree—

So pass away the gifts and joys of earth;
Frail as the rose, the cloud, the wave as fleeting,
We scarce can welcome happiness to birth,
Ere some sad note of change arrests the greeting.

The hopes we build, the friends we prize,
The visioned schemes our hearts delighting,
How do they vanish from our eyes!
The real our joyous fancies blighting.

The scenes we love Time marks with change,
And gladsome hours have no abiding,
And friends o'er land and ocean range,
The earth's wide space our lot dividing.

But shall we therefore shun the pleasant things
This else too barren wilderness adorning,
And give to joy and gladness swifter wings,
Shielding our hearts in cold and selfish warning?

No! for the memory of delights that leave us
Lingers—a welcome echo of the past.
No! for through all the myriad ills that grieve us
Hope struggles on, consoling to the last.

And through life's varied scenes and hours departed,
Its mingled heritage of joy and pain,
One solace ever clings to the warm-hearted,
Affection can live on—and friends may meet again.

Religious Persecution in Rhode Island—Hypocrisy of the Sol-disant Democratic Party—The Convention—The School Question.

To the Irish Naturalized Citizens of Rhode Island:

The circumstances which have lately occurred, whereby you are marked for proscription, and prohibited from the enjoyment of your inalienable rights, on account of your religious belief, induce me to address you. Nothing is more vague and meaningless than the windy boasts of the Religious Liberty of the State of Roger Williams.

What constitutes a tolerant people in Religious matter? Certainly, it is not the mere restraining themselves from the committing of depredations and outrages equal to those of Charlestown and Philadelphia. If our churches have not been desecrated, and our altars razed to the earth, it is but a matter of policy. If despotism exist in the mind it is immaterial whether it shows itself by acts or not. I have now to deal with principle.

The people of this State, you are aware, are like others divided into two political parties, and recent occurrences infallibly prove that they can have no common platform except that which is built on hatred to our religion; and you can have no more explicit proof of this than the stand taken by the two parties against your rights, on Tuesday last for no other consideration than the animosity they bear to our religion, its precepts and its practices.

The principal and most important change that could be effected by a new Constitution would be an extension of the franchise or liberty to vote to naturalized citizens; ninety-nine out of every hundred of whom are Roman Catholics.

Were this change effected; the Whigs have been under the impression, that you would invariably vote the Democratic ticket, on account of past injuries, in the unjust retention of your rights, according to the standing Constitution, framed by them; but recent occurrences prove that we have far more dangerous enemies in the shape of would-be Democratic friends.

Accordingly the Whig press—by appealing to the worst passions of the native citizens raise the cry, "give them but this privilege, and you will see them march to the polls, headed by their priests, under the symbols of the Cross and Crozier, and you can no longer say that you live in a free State, but under the spiritual despotism of the Pope of Rome.

This is no more than a vulgar aping of the tyranny and despotism of the English Oligarchy. God knows, Protestantism of itself, wherever it exists, is able to brew its own animosity to Catholicity, without borrowing from the fountain head of its impurities. This has been the argument that induced both Whigs and Democrats to coalesce and prohibit you from the right of suffrage. They were afraid that you, by your unity, might cause a division of the School Fund, and that there would be an end to those State incubuses, Common Schools, for the further proselytizing of Catholic youth, and robbing them of their faith; that faith, for which our ancestors have been, for the last three hundred years, persecuted and gibbited by the tyranical, Protestant Government of England; which State education here, exercises towards us, only in a milder and less conscious form.

It is amusing to read, in the city papers, the Pharaisaical remarks on the intolerance of the Catholic church, by their hackneyed scribes, who, before our face, advocate principles the most intolerant and abusive.

For instance, can there be a greater abuse of freedom, than to tax a people for institutions in the choice of which they have no voice in the selection of whose officers they have no confidence, and whose objects are incompetent to meet their requirements?

I shall say no more under this head, but simply remark again, animosity towards the members of the Catholic religion, was the principal cause of the failure of a Convention; that both political parties have engrafted the Protestant religion on the present Constitution; that we have here a State religion. It would be impossible to enumerate the slanderous and libelous appeals made by the Whig press, to both parties, in order to prevent our access to the ballot-box. The Tribune insultingly insinuates to the ministers of our religion, that they would lead to the polls a drunken rabble, who would fight their way with the shillelah, brandishing under the Cross.

Well, naboclish, if there be anything justifiable in the crusades of old, I am not prepared to say if there would not be something consistent in that, too, so that inconsistent political demagogues might now and then be taught a lesson.

The Democratic party. Bless the mark! What shall I say of it? Does such exist in Rhode Island? In fact "Handy Andy," who had the most singularly ingenious knack of saying everything wrong, could not fail in properly describing it in its true colors. The fact is, there is no properly organized body, imbued in this State with principles alike to the Democrats of the several other States. There are a few who would be a credit to any Democratic party; such as Governor Dorr; but they are in a helpless minority.

But here you may very properly ask, if you have not watched the current of events, "what of the great victory of the Democrats during the Presidential campaign?" Shaw! The facts are these: there was division in the Whig camp; a few political gamblers usurped the ideas of the Æneas [illegible] and by the assistance of a great heap of what Kossuth, alias Alexander Smith, calls material aid, and the help of some five hundred naturalized votes and pledges to the people they never expected to fulfil; by such means, they gained a majority in the State Legislature, for no other purpose than to be more conservative than the conservatives themselves. Did they fulfil their promises to their colleagues? They did it in this wise, they called a Convention, and excluded five thousand naturalized citizens from taking their preliminary part to which they were entitled, and used no exertion on their part; but they had their offices, they were satiated; that was sufficient constitutional change for them. In concluding my remarks under this head, I have no hesitation in saying that the leaders of the Democratic party have basely deceived the people, and that if the Democracy of this State is to be judged by them, Bancroft, in his next edition, may write its history in a paragraph.

There are many other things in which they were found wanting, but their deceit towards the naturalized citizens is what most concerns us.

The most exciting question before the country now, is that of State Education, on which I purpose to show why Catholics are opposed to it; and why they insist on a division of the School Fund, a move in which they will not relax, though oft defeated, until they accomplish their object in every State in the Union. Governor Dorr, in his address to the electors of Rhode Island, makes a great mistake when he says, "Catholics, as a denomination, are not united in their opinion respecting State Education." I assure him they are, for the following reason:

In the first place, the church has denounced State education, as "dangerous to the faith and morals of Catholic youth." This, to the true Catholic, is as convincing as if the denunciation was made to us by an angel from Heaven. This is a particle of faith, of which our opponents have no conception. Human argument here, occupies but a second-rate place. And why does the church denounce State education? I shall, to the best of my ability, state my reasons: Education is not the mere training of youth for secular employments; it should have more noble objects in view; the developing of the religious and moral faculties of our nature should be its greatest aim. Literary knowledge is too often found to be injurious, when not subordinate to religion.

Revelation declares that we should first seek the kingdom of God. State education is imperfect, for its aim is only to educate the mind, the education of the heart is neglected. Youth have their summer of life, and as the fruit tree, under proper care, springs forth, and buds and blossoms in beauty and loveliness, so they, when the seeds of morality and religion are planted in youth, their nature is elevated, their ideas naturally become enlarged, and when at length they arrive at maturity, adorned with knowledge and virtue, the noblest work of God, they stand their country's pride and hope, their parents' happiness, and the objects of universal admiration.

There is no object under Heaven more pleasing to the sight of God and man, than religious minds, with education as their hand-maids. They are the noblest works of Him in whom we live and have our being. It is pleasant to view the works of nature, the ocean, whether excited into angry billows, or reposing in silent greatness, the cloud-capped mountain, the foaming torrent, the sun, the moon, the stars that glitter in the blue concave of heaven; but in no place do we behold the majesty of the great Creator so brilliantly displayed as in the cultivated and religiously endowed mind.

Catholics are, therefore, opposed to State education, because it is imperfect. Besides, the most sacred regard to conscience should be manifested in free school education, but this is not the case. The State appoints the reading of King James' Bible—a version in which Catholics do not believe. The teachers invariably taunt Catholic youth about the "superstitions" and practices of their church—Catholics, then, cannot support such establishments, if they be true to their principles, without a violation of conscience!

They are placed in a position similar to that of the Catholics of Great Britain, who are compelled, by unjust legislation, to support that Hydra of imposition, "The Church by Law Established."

As soon, then, as the true friends of education, the true sons of the free republic, find leisure to study the school question, even with mere human knowledge, the continuance of State education, and the many abuses that attend it, will be found impossible. The first founders of State education, certainly had their heads filled with Pagan ideas.

The Spartan law-giver considered children more the property of the State, than of the parent. He considered parental authority of no import; he deprived parents of training up children according to their own ideas and belief. Infants were committed to public nurses, and after seven years of age, all were fed at public tables. The education of the youth was worthy the brutal vices of Sparta. They were trained to suppress all the better emotions. "Detection was taught to be the only crime. Valor was repaid by vice. Natural affection was scorned. And this national system of juvenile association is left on record with all its distinctive features, to prove that every system must be utterly wrong, which makes light of the parental instinct and the natural love."

Catholics turn with fond delight from these corrupt practices of the State, to the will and ordinance of God. The Christian law nowhere authorizes the State to educate youth. But the law is—"Children obey your parents in the Lord." "Fathers, bring up your children in the discipline and correction of the Lord."

The great desideratum, of our time, is Christian Education. The criminal statistics of both Europe and America, afford the proof that the inmates of the prisons show majorities who have received State education; whose misfortune consists in not receiving a christian education.

Their education was consigned to the keeping of politicians—it could not but prove detrimental to them. Every conscientious citizen must admit how badly managed generally are those affairs which are in the hands of political intriguers.

Taxation is all they know of. Whatever swells the taxes, expands the conscience. Trust them with the education of Catholic youth? No, never. That trust would be too sacred, if we believe our religion and value it as our father's above all price; as the most precious inheritance Catholic parents can leave their offspring, if we value the salvation of our souls.

Again, if the Bible be the Religion of Protestants by what right do they introduce it into the Public Schools? Do they want to supply in some way the great want of a Religious education? If so, the attempt is wretched, for the version used is King James' which is rejected by all the Catholic world, and innumerable Protestants who know it is an impure version. Yes, it is the work of a corrupt monarch, a slavish Hierachy; the slave of a master whose boast was, "Do I make the Judges? Do I make the Bishops? Then by God's wounds, I make what likes me, Law and Gospel."

Then it is not to statesmen or politicians whose duty as such only concerns the affairs of this world, can the christian parent commit the education of his children.

Modern politicians in every country have endeavored to snatch the sacred duty of the moral and religious training of youth from the Church of God to whom Catholic parents have always intrusted it.

An ancient philosopher has said, when he beheld the images of his ancestors, he felt his mind most powerfully moved, and stimulated to virtue. Then separate from the education of Catholic youth, the knowledge of the victories of the truth over every species of error, her achievments in the cause of civilization and literature, the example of her interprid missionaries in the establishment of Christianity among the benighted, in short her many resources for the elevation of poor human nature—and what a mawkish sentimentalism must the State education be for them.

Where shall their minds turn and observe those images that will stimulate and move them to virtue? Surely not to those schools where the religion of Jesus is proscribed for sake of pandering to human passions, prejudices, and feelings.

The fact is, the Catholic Church is determined to give her children a knowledge of something more than reading and writing. Whatever has been done in the cause of literature worthy of the name, has been done by her members, and under her fostering care. But the Huns, the Goths and the Vandals of the Protestant Reformation, have for the last three centuries, pounced upon her and somewhat impeded her onward course.

There are many considerations why Catholics cannot be advocates of State Education. They must have an education not only under religious influence, but based upon it, and interwoven with it in every detail and every incident. But Catholics have another motive for their opposition to State education. The allegiances they owe the country compel them to oppose everything tyrannic that would in any way not promote the public good. Education is admitted on all hands to promote the public welfare, but a bad education has never served any place, and to promote the public good. In the days of ancient Greece and Rome, so long as the training of youth was duly attended by parents, even under the influence of an erroneous religion, youth became adorned with virtuous qualities and were models of excellence to surrounding nations; but as soon as Alcibiades scoffed at their divine worship, public virtue began to decay, morals became corrupted, and the subversion of the State was the effect of general depravity. The idea is despotic that the State has a right to tax a people for the support of institutions of their choice. The power of interfering in any way with the liberty of conscience, is expressly forbidden by the Constitution. It is then essential to liberty of conscience, that parents be allowed to train up their children in that religious belief they deem essential to salvation. The avowed intention of the proposers of common schools is to crush all private institutions. In the State schools, either no religion will be taught, or the religion of some particular sect. If no religion is taught, then infidelity is taught, for infidelity is the mere negation of truth. In either case the fundamental principle of our government is trampled upon by the continuance of common schools.

It will be perceived that these statements are made with the bids of no political party—were it so, it would show an unconscientious sycophancy, degrading to one who is a citizen and a bondman, (so far as he cannot exercise the right of a freeman;) but rather to show the injustice, in a country with a Constitution like this, as appealing to the prejudice of a portion of the people against the other, not on political but religious grounds, wherein questions of moment involving temporary considerations are at stake; the injustice of representing thousands under a distinct feature, as but a unit, so base and so unprincipled as to exercise political rights but at the dictation of a few.

"'Tis Liberty alone that gives the flower
Of fleeting life its lustre and perfume;
And we are weeds without it. All constraint,
Except what wisdom lays on evil men,
Is evil; hurts the faculties, impedes
Their progress in the road of science; blinds
The eyesight of discovery; and begets
In those that suffer it, a sordid mind
Bestail, a meagre intellect."

JOHN COYLE.

Wine Treading.

The perfectly trustworthy correspondent of the London Morning Chronicle now engaged in investigating the Agricultural condition of France, gives the following information, which will prove interesting to all in general, and not a few in particular. We have ourselves witnessed precisely the same process in Italy:—

"Very venerable and decidely picturesque as is the process of wine treading, it is unquestionably rather a filthy one; and the spectacle of great brown horny feet, not a whit too clean, splashing and sprawling in the bubbling juice, conveys at first sight a qualmy species of feeling, which, however, seems only to be entertained by those to whom the sight is new. I was everywhere assured that all efforts had failed to construct a wine-press capable of performing the work with the perfection of the human feet. No mechanical squeezing, I was informed, would so nicely express that peculiar proportion of the whole moisture of the grape which forms the highest flavored wine. The manner in which the fruit was tossed about was pointed out to me, and I was asked to observe that the grapes were, as it were squeezed in every possible fashion, and from every possible side, worked and churned and mashed hither and thither by the ever moving toes and muscles of the foot. As far as any impurity went, the argument was, that the fermentation flung as scum to the surface every atom of foreign matter held in suspension in the wine, and that the liquid ultimately obtained was exquisitely pure as if human flesh had never touched it."

Art.—Art is based on a strong sentiment of religion—on a profounded and mighty earnestness; hence it is so prone to co-operate with religion. Religion is not in want of art; it rests on its own majesty.—Goethe.

Beauty Natural to Women.

With her is associated a separate idea, that of beauty as proper to her—to the fair sex. The Loves and the Graces are felt to reside naturally in a woman's countenance, but to be quite out of place in a man's; his face is bound to be clean, and may be allowed to be picturesque, but it is a woman's business to be beautiful. Beauty of some kind is so much the attributes of the sex, that a woman can hardly be said to feel herself a woman who has not, at one time of her life, at all events, felt herself to be fair. Beauty confers an education of its own, and that always a feminine one. Most celebrated beauties have owed their highest charms to the refining education which their native homes have given them. It was the wisdom as well as the poetry of the age of chivalry, that it supposed all women to be beautiful, and treated them ss such. A woman is not fully furnished for her part in life whose heart has not occasionally swelled with the sense of possessing some natural abilities in the great art of pleasing, opening to her knowledge secrets of strength, wonderfully intended to balance her muscular, or, if you will, her general weakness. And herein we see how truly this attribute belongs to woman alone. Man does not need such a consciousness, and seldom has it without rendering himself most extremely ridiculous; while to a woman, it is one of the chief weapons in her armory, deprived of which she is comparatively powerless. And it is not nature which deprives her; few, and solitary as sad, are the cases where a woman is stamped by nature as an outcast from her people, and such a one is not understood to enter the lists. But it is rather a perverse system of education which starts with the avowed principle of stifling nature. What can be more false or cruel than the common plan of forcing upon a young girl the withering conviction of her own plainness? If this be only a fooling sham to counteract the supposed demoralizing consciousness of beauty, the world will soon counteract that; but if the victim have really a scanty supply of charms, it will, in addition to incalculable anguish of mind, only diminish those further still.

To such a system alone can we ascribe an unhappy anomalous style of young woman, occasionally met with, who seems to have taken on herself the vows of voluntary ugliness—who neither eats enough to keep her complexion clear, nor smile enough to set her pleasing muscles in action—who prides herself on a skinny parsimony of attire which she calls neatness—thinks that respectable which is most unbecoming—is always thin, and seldom well, and passes through the society of the lovely, the graceful, and the happy, with the vanity that apes humility on the poor disappointed countenance, as if to say, "Stand back! I am uncomlier than thou." • • • Let those who are intrusted with the sweet but very discreet office of educating young girls, be careful how they give ear to that sophistry which associates the nurture of vanity with the instinctive hope, belief, consciousness—call it what you may—of beauty. What other consciousness, it may be asked, would they put in its place? Is a young girl more attractive or less vain, for depending upon any other secret consciousness of pleasing? for believing, not that she is fair, but that she is accomplished, learned, wealthy, or fashionable? Is the stale exhortation, that she must study to be thought good rather than good looking, possible in practice, or rather the most monstrous paradox that she can be puzzled with? No: we may be sure that nature not only intended this feminine consciousness as a support in that age of ineffable self-mistrust, when a girl cannot with true simplicity or modesty believe herself to have any other power of pleasing, but has also ordained this to be the only belief in her own attractiveness which can be obtained without vanity; for there is no real instinct of feminine charms without an increase rather than diminution of true feminine modesty, and those who endeavor to quench this instinct will find that they have fostered a much worse kind of vanity, and extinguished that best part of beauty, which is grace.—Quarterly Review.

The Man of Honor.

The man of true honor ever forgets an insult; or, if remembered, it is only with the kindness of a superior mind looking above the shafts of envy. True honor gains nothing by feeding the spirit of contention; for if once that evil is harbored, it is sustained by the sacrifice of every just and manly principle. The gentle rivulet becomes a torrent when the elements contend; but when the tempest is past, the waters contract to their former limits flowing with more freshness and adding new beauty to their progress. So the elevated mind, if ever disturbed by the malice of Ignorance and Envy, like that little stream, soon regains its wonted gentleness and feels the happier for the test. True honor acknowledges itself in rags as well as in costly raiment—it needs no covering—most beautiful when undisguised. It exalts itself in all conditions, for it is of its own creating. The world would be its arbiter, and false distinctions of society would restrict if to high station, but the world would have been made to worship it when clothed in the garb of the lowly. Detraction has no blemish for it—it abides all worldly tears.

The Grave—A Beautiful Extract.

I love, in the twilight hour, when all is calm and peaceful, to disengage myself from the busy scenes of this world of din and noise, and hold sweet communion with the sleeping tenants of the grave. I love to wander amid the tombs, and read upon the lettered stone, or sculptured marble, the epitaph of those who have "shuffled off this mortal coil, and laid them down to pleasant dreams." There sleep in unbroken slumbers and peaceful repose, infancy in the bud, youth in its bloom, manhood in its vigor, and old age in its infirmity. There repose the friends and companions of our youth, with whom we were wont to spend the halcyon days of boyhood. There, too, are sleeping the remains of a pious mother, or a loved father, who in the wayward hours of infancy, when we were tempted to leave the path of rectitude, taught us to pray, and prepare us for heaven; and who amid the last pangs of dissolving mortality, bade us meet them in that happy country, where

"Sickness and sorrow, pain and death,
Are felt and feared no more."

I love to visit the graveyard, because in a few days, or years, at farthest, it will be the receptacle of this cumbersome clay—this earthly tabernacle, which has so long been heir to a thousand nameless ills and sorrows. I love the grave because it is a place of rest. There nothing shall mar our slumbers, or disturb our repose. "There the wicked cease to trouble and the weary are at rest." Well may Job, in prospect of rest in the grave, exclaim—"I would not live always;" and the Psalmist—"O, that I had wings like a dove, then would I flee away and be at rest."

I love to see the bell-flower, affection's appropriate emblem, bloom in grateful fragrance and attractive loveliness over the sacred spot that marks the resting place of the loved and beautiful—the pious and good of other days. I love, like my blessed Redeemer, to shed a tear of sympathy and, affection over the turf-clad mound; for in the touching and sublime words of scripture, we are told—"Jesus Wept."

"There is a calm for those that weep,
A rest for weary pilgrims found.
They softly lie, and sweetly sleep
Low in the ground.

"The storm that wrecks the wintry sky,
No more disturbs their deep repose
Than summer evenings latest sigh
That shuts the rose.'

But the grave is not the finale of man.—He is destined to be raised in triumph from its portals, and claim an infinity of being beyond the starry realm. "Behold I show you a mystery, we shall not all sleep, but we shall be changed, in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump; (for the trumpet shall sound;) and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed. For this corruptible must put on incorruption and this mortal must put on immortality."

At the mandate of Divinity, shall earth's slumbering millions, who have so long quietly reposed in their house of dust, come forth from the dreary empire of the grave, with the loud paan of victory and triumph upon their immortal tongues—"O, grave where is thy victory?"

Women and Ladies.

In the days of our fathers there were such things to be met with as men and women; but now they are all gone, and in their place a race of gentlemen and ladies—or, to be still more refined, a race of "ladies and gentlemen,"—has sprung up. Women and girls are among the things that were; but "ladies" are found everywhere. Miss Martineau, wishing to see the women wards in a prison in Tennessee, was answered by the warden "We have no ladies here at present, madam." Now, so far as the ladies were concerned, it was very well that none of them were in prison; but then it sounds a little odd—ladies in prison! It would seem bad enough for women to go to such a place.

A lecturer, discoursing upon the characteristics of women, illustrated thus: "Who were the last at the cross?" Ladies.—Who were the first at the sepulchre?—"Ladies." On the modern improvement we have heard of but one thing that beats the above. It was the finishing touch to a marriage ceremony, performed by an exquisite divine, up to all modern refinements. When he had thrown the chain of Hymen around the happy couple, he concluded by saying, "I now pronounce you husband and lady." The audience stuffed their handkerchiefs into their mouths and got out of the room as quickly as possible to take breath.

Genius and Talent.

Talent is, so to speak, a Hand to do things with; Genius is an eye; hence the impersonality of the one and the personality of the other. There are men of talent without genius—adroit, useful, able men; there are also men of genius without talent—bungling, inarticulate, neglected, wailing, unhappy victims, with inordinate ambition and little power. DeQuincy is a man of genius who has many talents, but wanting the one faculty which would render them perfectly efficient—Pegasus without a curb-rein, galloping aimlessly.

We have at times osed to introduce to our re ders some of the s most distinguished in the s several departs, many of whom, besides a local, have a d-wide renown, and whose reputation ats thousands to be instructed, entertained and efitted. Among them is Dr. S. S. Fitch. This tleman is one of a line of celebrated phyans. His grandfather, Dr. Ebenezer Fitch, owned for his piety, learning and skill in sury and medicine, was one of the Connecticut during the revolutionary war. His father, Chauncey Fitch, was the first physician settled in this State, and for the greater part is life was one of the most successful physis that ever practised medicine in America.—the great epidemic of 1813, an epidemic that t away nearly ten per cent. of the popul-of the United States, he taught its easy and fect cure, and among his numerous patients lost a single case. Dr. S. S. Fitch is the d of this line, a d was born in Plattsburg.—after receiving an excellent academical and sical education, repaired to Philadelphia, at an y age, to complete his medical education. There graduated in medicine, obtaining the highest ors of his class. He spent about ten years in ladelphia, closely and carefully pursuing his ies, after which he visited all the States of this on, and many of the Indian tribes. In 1836, he ed Europe, and during six years, much of his was spent in the hospitals of London, Paris, and y. In 1842, he commenced delivering his celeed lectures on the causes and cure of consumpand disease: on the loss of life—showing by ous and easily understood rules, how human life be extended at least a hundred years. His leces won all hearers by their truthfulness, common e, and utility. In 1846, Dr. Fitch visited this , and published his lectures on these subjects, ch met with wonderful success. They inspired fidence, joy, hope, and courage among their readand circulated largely both in this country and in ope. These lectures have passed through over nty editions, between one and two hundred usand copies have been already sold. To invalids, well as those in the enjoyment of health, they e a perfect guide; and those who early adopt r teachings, and follow them, cannot fall victims hat scourge of our climate—pulmonary consump. In this city Dr. Fitch has been consulted by forty thousand persons, of both sexes, for nuous and various diseases. He differs greatly n others in his views of a physician's duty, as he ks every member of this important profession uld prepare and administer his own medicines; t unless he does this, he cannot, though he may oy reputation, meet with the success he could atn by this means. He writes out an exact and eful account of every case that falls under his no. These cases already exceed forty thousand, ng more than one hundred large volumes, all carey written out. No record of such extent was evmade before by any private physician, and in this y he retains his experience and daily adds to it; an examination of these volumes will show that of those who place themselves under his care, ninen out of twenty are restored to health. Dr. Fitch at home from morning to night, except on the bbath. His consultations, either at his house or by er, are always free, as no charge whatever is made examining any case for rich or poor. The diseahe treats are consumption, asthma, bronchitis, oat diseases, dyspepsia, bowel troubles, piles, all male diseases, liver complaints, affections of the d, skin diseases, and all the humors and impuriof the blood, scrofula, &c. &c. Mr. Fitch res at 714 Broadway, where all invalids will find a most skilful, sympathising and generous phyan. We think our friends who call on him will l this a true history of one of our most respectamen.—Sunday Cour.

SPECIAL NOTICES

POISONING.

Thousands of Parents who use Vermifuge comed of Castor oil, Calomel, &c., are not aware, t while they appear to benefit the patient y are actually laying the foundations for a ies of diseases, such as salivation, loss of ht, weakness of limbs, &c.

In another column will be found the advertisent of Hobensack's Medicines, to which we the attention of all directly interested in ir own as well as their Children's health. In er Complaints and all disorders arising from se of a bilious type, should make use of the y genuine medicine, Hobensack's Liver Pills. "Be not deceived," but ask for Hobensack's orm Syrup and Liver Pills, and observe that h has the signature of the Proprietor, J. N. OBENSACK, as none else are genuine.

To the Herb Rosemary.—Henry Kirke White ressing this herb thus writes—
"Sweet-scented flower, who'rt wont to bloom
In January's frost severe,
d o'er the wintry desert drear,
To waft thy sweet perfume—
me! thou shalt be my minstrel now."

Doubtless the poet was aware of the many virs of this herb, but the discovery of one rare ality was reserved for later times. Combined h Castor Oil, it forms the best Hair ash ever own; and Mr. Spalding has so chemica ly united m, that the mixture is unparalleled for elegance l utility. Try it.

Sold by Hazard & Caswell, R. J. Taylor, and by lers generally.

Myer's Extract of Rock Rose.—Rock Rose, the ncipal ingredient in this valuable medicine has n long known to physicians and others, in w Haven and vicinity, as one of the best alteres in the vegetable kingdom, superior to the and widely known Sarsaparilla. Myers' Comund Extract, one of the nicest and most sciene preparations in the country, has been tried l found successful in the cure of many diseases t have baffled the skill of some of the first ysicians of our land. After the principal medes of the day have failed, Scrofula, that dreaddisease, which shows itself in so many forms, is ickly and permanently cured. By purifying whole system, it gives to the patient a healthy pearance and good spirits.

REMOVAL.

DR. TURNBULL occulist and aurist from London has removed from N. Y. Hotel to Winthrop House, Boston. Office hours from 8 to 2.

From the London "Times,"—A number of scientific gentlemen assembled yesterday at the house of Dr. Turnbull, in Russell square, to witness the results produced by a process recently discovered by the Doctor, and applied for the cure of deafness and blindness.

Between twenty and thirty patients attended many of whom, it was stated by their parents, had been born deaf and dumb. They were submitted, to various tests, by which it was proved that their deafness had been cured by the application of Dr. Turnbull's remedies; and what appears most singular is, that whether the disease depended on paralysis of the auditory nerve, rupture of the tympanum, or obstruction of the internal passages, relief had been obtained, or complete cure effected without pain or inconvenience. Several patients, who represented that they had been completely blind, said that they could now see perfectly well.

THE PIONEER BRAND!

Duffield's American Hams

THE SUBSCRIBER having received a fresh consignment, begs to call attention to this unrivalled article.

The mode of curing Hams, practised by Duffield, of Louisville, was first adopted in 1837, since which time the Duffield Hams have become extensively known in England and in this country and at the Great exhibition they took a prize medal, although brought in competition with the finest brands from Westphalia. For tenderness texture and flavor, these hams are unsurpassed They are cured under the immediate care of Duffield & Co., Louisville, Kentucky, and are especially prepared for summer keeping. On their high standing in every market where they have been introduced, it is not necessary here to speak,—they need only to be tested to give entire satisfaction. The Duffield Hams are used at all the principal Hotels in the country.

NEWPORT VIA PROVIDENCE.

On and after June 20th, 1853,

THE STEAMER PERRY

CAPT. WOOLSEY,

Will run between Providence and Newport, connecting twice each way, each day, with trains of Providence and Worcester Railroad, as follows:

Leave Newport at 5 a. m. and 1½ p. m.
Leave Providence at 9 a. m. and 6 p. m., or on arrivals of trains from Worcester and Boston.

Passengers may procure through tickets at Railroad stations of New York and New Haven Railroad, New York; of Western Railroad, Albany; or Providence and Worcester Railroad, Providence.

FARE.

THE WONDER OF THE AGE!!

FOR the cure of Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Chilblains, Chapped or Cracked Hands, Burns, & Scalds, Cuts, Wounds of any kind; Piles; Inflamation of the Breast; Bites of Insects; Old Sores; all kinds of Breaking out and Sores on children; Sore Lips, Pimples on the Face, and all diseases of the Skin.

☞ For particulars see small bills accompanying each Box.

☞ 20,000 boxes sold in New England the past year, and gave universal satisfaction.

The great secret of the popularity of this Ointment lies in the fact that it accomplishes all it is recommended to do; and that I do not recommend it to cure anything but what from the nature of the ingredients, it is an absolute specific, while other preparations of the kind are recommended to cure every disease that human flesh is heir to, from Consumption down to the bite of a flea, when, in fact, all the medical properties they contain are in the handbills, and the thousands of fictitious certificates published in their praise.

I invite those troubled with the above complaints, (particularly Salt Rheum,) to take a box and try it,—if you are not fully satisfied, return it and take back your money.

N. B.—I have hundreds of testimonials I can shew any one who feels disposed to call on me and satisfy himself of the virtues of the Ointment. Prepared and sold by MUNROE TERREL, Naugatuck, Conn.

☞ To whom all Orders should be addressed. Sold also by the principal Druggists and Country Merchants generally. Price 25 cents.

Wholesale Depots,—C. V. Clickener & Co. No. 81, Barclay St., New York; Weeks & Potter, Boston. Agents,—Hazard & Caswell; C. G. Handy; E. B. Irish, Newport; John Hedley, Portsmouth. March 5.—1y.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DOCTOR ALFRED G. HALL.

AUTHOR of the New Theory of cure by the Nutritive Principle, in Physiology and Medicine, sustaining the laws of life and removing the cause of disease, confirmed as a NATURAL SCIENCE by the Nutritive Process; expelling dead and depositing living matter at the same time in the Body, increasing its weight and strength while under treatment, being the great discovery of the constitutional power resisting disease; ample proof can be given in the person of any invalid.

Dr. H. receives visits, makes examinations, ascertains the cause of disease, describes the precise condition of the patient, furnishes prescriptions, medicines and recipes for his Nutritive Fluids and cordials.

Three months attention and treatment is requisite in all cases, with printed instructions for diet and washing, and the use of the Alkaline Girdle for the spine and kidneys—a restorative action is produced in all parts of the system immediately by the natural laws sustained by nutrition.

He is the inventor and sole proprietor of 12 nutritive fluids; they can be made by any family—are adapted to the several temperaments and to every form of disease. His works "Views of the New Theory, &c." "Womanhood," and the "Mother's Own Book," are furnished to invalids under his supervision. It is now before Congress.

Doctor Alfred G. Hall may be consulted by letter or in person, at his Rooms, No. 15 Winter street, Boston, from 10 A. M. to 5 P. M. ☞ Medicines, &c. forwarded by Express to any part.

TIMELY HINTS TO ALL.

How many have lost a father, a mother, a sister, a brother, or an innocent little prattling child—and have not even the shadow of a resemblance to look upon. After the separation some little toy or a trifling article of apparel, often is kept for years, and cherished as a token of remembrance how much more valuable would be one of Williams' perfect Daguerreotype Minatures of the "loved and lost".

There is scarcely any one who does not take pleasure in gazing on the features of a friend, and when that friend has been removed by death, we often hear the exclamation, uttered with an expression of deep regret, "Oh, what would I not give for such a picture of my friend!"

Reader, perhaps you cannot do a better thing now, while your mind is upon the subject, than take an hour or two, and go by yourself, or with your family, or your friends, and visit the only artist in our town; and if not now, you may at some future period have reason to feel grateful for these "gentle hints" from

J. A. WILLIAMS,

Oct. 26, 1850. Daguerreotype Artist

NOTICE.

Whatever concerns the health and happiness of the people is at all times of the most valuable importance. I take it for granted that every person will do all in their power to save the lives of their children, and that every person will endeavor to promote their own health at all sacrifices. I feel it my duty to solemnly assure you that WORMS, according to the opinion of the most celebrated Physicians, are the primary causes of a large majority of diseases to which children and adults are liable. If you have an appetite continually changeable from one kind of food to another, Bad Breath, Pain in the Stomach, Picking at the Nose, Hardness and Fullness of the Belly, Dry Cough, Slow Fever, Pulse irregular—remember that all these denote WORMS, and you should at once apply the remedy—

HOBENSACK'S WORM SYRUP.

An article founded upon Scientific Principles, compounded with purely Vegetable substances, being perfectly safe when taken, and can be given to the most tender infant with decided beneficial effect, where Bowel Complaints and Diarrhœa have made them weak and debilitated, the Tonic properties of my Worm Syrup are such, that it stands without an equal in the catalogue of medicines, in giving tone and strength to the Stomach, which makes it an Infallible remedy for those afflicted with Dyspepsia, the astonishing cures performed by this Syrup after Physicians have failed is the best evidence of its superior efficacy over all others.

THE TAPE WORM.

This is the most difficult Worm to destroy of all that infest the human system, it grows to an almost indefinite length, becoming so coiled and fastened in the intestines and stomach, effecting the health so sadly as to cause St. Vitus Dance, Fits, &c., that those afflicted seldom if ever suspect that it is Tape Worm hastening them to an early grave. In order to destroy this Worm, a very energetic treatment must be pursued, it would therefore be proper to take 6 or 8 of my Liver Pills, so as to remove all obstructions, that the Worm Syrup may act direct upon the Worm, which must be taken in doses of two table-spoonfuls three times a day. These directions followed have never been known to fail in curing the most obstinate case of TAPE WORMS.

READ THE FOLLOWING!

And you cannot be indifferent to this appeal. Humanity calls upon you to do your duty. It is only one out of the many thousand who has seen its wonderful effects.

Dr. J. N. HOBENSACK—Sir:—Gratitude to you, the inventor of a highly valuable medicine, prompts this humble testimony in its favor, as being a safe, gentle, yet powerfully effectual remedy for Worms. Having had much experience in knowing the effects of various preparations, my wife, who was well skilled in ministering to children in distress, pronounced it the best she had ever used, and would use no other while yours could be had.

A daughter of ours became seriously diseased. Her symptoms were alarming, but her mother at once sought for a remedy for Worms. Having obtained yours, by the time she had taken half a bottle, O! Sir, the joy it gave an affectionate mother, to see the improvement in her child, she being about five or six years old. She passed an immense quantity of Worms, her sickly countenance now brightened, her spirits returned, and in a short time a lovely child threatened with decline and death, now gave promise of health. Thanks to a kind Providence, which blessing attending your Syrup, restored the child. With confidence I recommend it to all parents whose children are suffering with Worms.

JAS. B. BOWEN, Minister of the Gospel,

Late Pastor of the Southampton Baptist Church.

☞ CAUTION!—Remember, then, Parents and all others, that HOBENSACK'S WORM SYRUP is the only Medicine in use that will eradicate Worms, with certainty, and will not disagree with the most delicate Stomach. Be careful you get the genuine article, and see that the signature, "J. N. HOBENSACK," is on every bottle.

HOBENSACK'S LIVER PILLS.

No part of the system is more liable to disease than the LIVER, it serving as a filterer to purify the blood, or giving the proper secretion to the bile, so that any wrong action of the Liver effects the other important parts of the system, and results variously in Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, &c. We should, therefore watch every symptom that might indicate a wrong action of the Liver. These Pills being composed of ROOTS and PLANTS furnished by nature to heal the sick; namely, 1st, an EXPECTORANT, which augments the secretion from the Pulmonary mucus membrane, or promotes the discharge of secreted matter. 2d, an ALTERATIVE, which changes in some inexplicable and insensible manner the certain morbid action of the system. 3d, a TONIC, which gives tone and strength to the nervous system, renewing health and vigor to all parts of the body. 4th, a CATHARTIC, which acts in perfect harmony with the other ingredients, and operating on the Bowels, and expelling the whole mass of corrupt and vitiated matter and purifying the Blood, which destroys disease and restores health.

TO FEMALES.

You will find these Pills an invaluable medicine in many complaints to which you are subject. In obstruction either total or partial, they have been found of inestimable benefit, restoring their functional arrangements to a healthy action, purifying the blood and other fluids so effectually to put to flight all complaints which may arise from female irregularities, as head ache, giddiness, dimness of sight, pain in the side, back, &c., and offered to the public as the best Pills for all diseases, upon the following

MEDICAL EVIDENCE.

We, the undersigned Physicians, having had the receipt of their manufacture submitted to us for inspection, say, that the ingredients of which they are composed makes them the best Pill in use for all diseases of the Liver, Impurities of the Blood, &c. We say this not only from our own judgment, but also from that of the best medical authority in the United States. All diseases requiring the use of an ALTERATIVE DIAPHORETIC and PURGATIVE MEDICINE, that came under our notice, has been treated with the above Pills with the most satisfactory success.

The Metropolitan Range

THE SUBSCRIBER has secured the Agency for the sale of this favorite range. It will do twice the amount of cooking of any range in use and in a superior manner. It requires but half the amount of fuel and the cost of setting them is very trifling, in comparison with other ranges. The boiler holes are so ingeniously arranged that fire burns equally under them all. One of the greatest advantages of this range is the construction of the oven which is lined with fire brick, thus retaining the heat and giving all the advantages of a brick oven. The range has met with a ready sale, gives the utmost satisfaction to all who have tried it, and is fast superseding all others in use. The subscriber invites all those in want of a range to call at his Store, No. 120 Thames Street, and examine the Metropolitan Range, before purchasing elsewhere.

"PANKORITE."

MYER'S EXTRACT OF ROCK ROSE!

An invaluable Remedy for all SCROFULUS DISEASES. Indigestion, Salt Rheum, Sick Headache, Canker, Nursing Sore Mouth, and General Debility, and as a PURIFYER OF THE BLOOD, IS UNEQUALLED.

The Rock Rose has gained a reputation at home and abroad, which no other medicine has ever done in the same length of time. According to the opinion of eminent Physicians the Rock Rose Plant is unequalled in CURING SCROFULA IN ITS VARIOUS FORMS.

STATEMENT OF REV. E. B. WARREN,*

(Pastor of the 2d Baptist Church, New London Ct.) relative to Myer's Extract of Rock Rose.

To the American Public.

As my name has been used in connection with recommendations of Mr Myer's Rock Rose Syrup in various advertisements, by the manufacturer, I beg leave to make the following statement with reference to my acquaintance with the remedy and tests to which I have subjected it, and the reasons for having introduced it to the notice of my private friends in the community in which I reside, long before the medicine was advertised. I make this statement freely, because I have, as a principle, withheld my name from all patent medicines, and sedulously abstained from recommending them to the public, believing them frequently the spawn of quackery and humbug, and as tending to increase instead of lessening human disease and suffering. Such, I fear, is the character of a large portion of the patent panaceas of this medicine-making age. "Their name is legion," and from their influence, as from the demoniacal spirits, we have reason to pray for a safe deliverance.

The First Test.

I had myself suffered occasionally with sudden attacks of Sick Headache and Bilious Diarrhea, and I had sought a great variety of curative agents to but little purpose; and suffering from this disease (diarrhea) at this time, I determined to test the new Syrup first upon myself. The result was beyond my expectations. It was a powerful alterative, and the morbid action of the system was changed, and the functions of secretion were restored to a health state. It gave tone and elasticity to my system, and corrected the derangement of the digestive organs, and gave me that inestimable blessing—health. This test was not determined in a week or a month; but I took four or five bottles in perhaps as many months. Since that time I have suffered but slightly from these derangements. My Sick Headache is entirely Cured.

Other Tests.

Finding this medicine so useful to myself, I at once gave it to several invalid friends. About this time, I was earnestly solicited to give advice in reference to a child, some eight years of age. This child was severely afflicted with a Scrofula humor, of a very severe type, the humor showing itself on all parts of the surface, and then suddenly disappearing. The child was very sick, and it was thought doubtful whether she would live. The humor resembled black specks of mortified flesh. In addition to some other remedies, I gave the child this syrup for about six weeks, when she had sufficient strength to go out to school occasionally. The swelling of her limbs ceased, and she was restored to health. The family feel that they owe her life with God's blessing, to my remedies.

This test satisfied me that the Rock Rose possessed specific powers for Scrofulus humors. I then tested it in cases of Cutaneous Eruptions, In Measles, Chicken Pox, Canker, Sore Mouth, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Piles, &c. In all these cases with perfect success. After testing this Syrup for more than a year, I wrote Mr. Myers (Oct. 17th, 1850) enthusiastically, not expecting my letter would be published, that his Syrup was a "Pankorite," all-healing, and I gave him the result of its operations in several instances. I stated in that letter that "it was invaluable as a remedy in Cutaneous Eruptions, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, and other disorders, included in the varied family of diseases known as Scrofula, &c.; that in Dyspepsia, it acted with wonderful efficacy." My opinion of its value for the above named diseases, remain unchanged and the same as when I wrote Mr. Myers in Oct. 1850. I do not recommend it for all the ills of our suffering humanity; but I unhesitatingly say, that as a remedy in Scrofulous affections, I believe it superior to any known curative agent.

It has been sufficiently tested by domestic practice to establish its adaption to extensive usefulness in mitigating human suffering and removing disease.

BUT WHAT IS THE ROCK ROSE?

The following history of the Rock Rose plant and its medical properties, we take from the New Haven Palladium, March 1852.

"The increased interest manifested in the Rock Rose plant, in consequence of the many wonderful cures effected by "Myers' Compound Extract of Rock Rose," calls for a brief history of it, in order to correct any erroneous opinion.

It is entirely different from the common Rose. It is a red-stemmed, oblong leaf plant, having a bitter taste. In addition to a remarkable peculiarity of the plant, of bearing two crops of flowers in one season, it also has another interesting and beautiful prosperity.

Dr. Eaton

Says that in the months of November and December, he has seen hundreds of these plants, sending out, near their roots, broad, thin, curved ice crystals, about an inch in breadth, which melted during day, and were renewed in the morning. For a more minute and analytical description of it, the reader is referred to Torrey & Gray's botanical works.

Its Medical History and Properties

Are far the most important, since upon these depends its value to the community. Dr. London says that in 1799 it was so valuable in England, that it was cultivated from seeds. Ever since 1806.

Prof. Ives, of Yale College,

Has habitually used it with great success in Scrofula and Chronic Disease, and through him its virtues were made known, until as Dr. Tyler says, "it is now in this section [New Haven] a common article in domestic practice for the cure of Scrofula and cutaneous diseases."

Dr. Whitlaw,

A Scoth Botanist of notoriety, while travelling in America, in 1814, learned its use in Canada.—Returning to England, he employed it in medicating his baths, which became greatly celebrated for the cure of similar diseases.

Dr. Isaac Parish, of Philadelphia,

Remarks that it has been successfully used in bad cases of Scrofulous Diseases.

Dr. J. H. Thompson, of the same place,

Prescribed it in bad cases of Scrofulous patients at Wills' Hospital. His success attracted the attention of senior physicians. He reports the following remarkable case of White Swelling of the hip, in February, 1844: The lad was seven years old, and had the disease for three years.—The bone was dislocated upward and outward.—There was a large opening on the hip leading to the bone, into which I could thrust my finger. I counted three ulcers. He had been under several physicians, who had given him up.—I ordered a decoction of Rock Rose. In two days his night sweats ceased; I then ordered a tea spoonful of Rock Rose three times a day Thirty-nine days after, he was entirely well.

Dr. Webb, of Madison, Ct.

Testifies to the value of Rock Rose, as evinced in the cure of numerous cases of the Scrofula especially in children.

Dr. S. Faller, of Hartford, Ct.

Administered the Rock Rose to a Scrofulous female, in which the anti-scrofulous remedies had been applied without success. The disease was fully arrested by it.

Dr. D. A. Tyler, of New Haven, Ct.

Relates the following case. Mr. C., from a child was afflicted with the Scrofula, and had also Glandular Swellings on the neck. At the age of 16 he was much worse; had eight abscesses on the neck, three ulcers on a the shoulder, and three on the hips. He consulted Drs. Munson and Spalding of New Haven but all to no purpose. In 1817, when forty years of age, Mr. Smith, a farmer from Long Island, observing Mr. C. with his head drawn on one side, and unable to labor, advised him to try the Rock Rose regularly, which he did for four weeks. The ulcers broke, discharged and healed, and his head resumed its natural position, and he went regularly to work.

The value of the Rock Rose has also been set forth by Dr. Tyler, of New Haven, Ct., in a dissertation avowedly prepared for that purpose, which afterwards, at the requests of several of his Medical brethren was published in a pamphlet.

We quote from the preface. He says that since the delivery of this address, "the plant under consideration has been more fully tested, its virtues developed, its character better established. This dissertation is published by the advice and approbation of several medical friends. The object of it is to lay before the profession, and the public, the virtues of a plant too much neglected.

The Rock Rose is a plant of rare medicinal virtues, and unrivalled as a curative agent in Scrofulous diseases. I cannot but express the desire, inclosing this statement, that it may be found to lessen the sufferings of our diseased and dying humanity. EDWIN R. WARREN

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE.

PROSPECTUS.

This work is conducted in the spirit of Littell's Museum of Foreign Literature, (which was favorably received by the public for twenty years,) but as it is twice as large, and appears so often, we not only give spirit and freshness to it by many things which were excluded by a month's delay, but while thus extending our scope and gathering a greater and more attractive variety, are able so to increase the solid and substantial part of our literary, historical and political harvest, as fully to satisfy the wants of the American reader.

The elaborate and stately Essays of Edinburgh, Quarterly, and other Reviews; and Blackwood's noble criticisms on Poetry, his keen political Commentaries, highly wrought Tales, and vivid descriptions of rural and mountain Scenery; and the contributions to Literature, History and Common Life, by the sagacious Spectator, the sparkling Examiner, the judicious Athenæum, the busy and industrious Literary Gazette, the sensible and comprehensive Britannia, the sober and respectable Christian Observer; these are intermixed with the Military and Naval reminiscences of the United Service, and with the best articles of the Dublin University, New Monthly, Frazer's, Tait's, Ainsworth's, Hood's, and Sporting Magazines, and of Chamber's admirable Journal. We do not consider it beneath our dignity to borrow wit and wisdom from Punch; and, when we think it good enough, make use of the thunder of The Times. We shall increase our variety by importations from the continent of Europe, and from the new growth of the British colonies.

The steamship has brought Europe, Asia and Africa, into our neighborhood; and will greatly multiply our connections, as merchants, Travellers and Politicians, with all parts of the world; so that much more than ever it now becomes every intelligent American to be informed of the condition and changes of foreign countries. And this not only because of their nearer connection with ourselves, but because the nations seem to be hastening, through a rapid process of change, to some new state of things, which the merely political prophet cannot compute.

Geographical Discoveries, the progress of Colonization, (which is extending over the whole world,) and Voyages and Travels, will be favorite matter for our selections; and, in general, we shall systematically and very fully acquaint our readers with the great department of Foreign affairs, without entirely neglecting our own.

While we aspire to make the Living Age desirable to all who wish to keep themselves informed of the rapid progress of the movement—to Statesmen, Divines, Lawyers and Physicians—to men of business and men of leisure—it is still a stronger object to make it attractive and useful to their Wives and Children. We believe that we can thus do some good in our day and generation; and hope to make the work indispensable in every well-informed family. We say indispensable, because in this day of cheap literature it is not possible to guard against the influx of what is bad in taste and vicious in morals, in any other way than by furnishing a sufficient supply of a healthy character. The mental and moral appetite must be gratified.

We hope that, by "winnowing the wheat from the chaff," by providing abundantly for the imagination, and by a large collection of Biography, Voyages, Travels, History, and more solid matter, we may produce a work which shall be popular, while at the same time it will aspire to raise the standard of Public taste.

Extract of a letter from Judge Story:—

I have read the prospectus with great pleasure; and entirely approve the plan. If it can only obtain the public patronage long enough and large enough, and securely enough, to attain its true ends, it will contribute in an eminent degree to give a healthy tone, not only to our literature, but to public opinion. It will enable us to possess, in a moderate compass, a select library of the best productions of the age.—It will do more: It will redeem our periodical literature from the reproach of being devoted to light and superficial reading, to transitory speculations, to sickly and ephemeral sentimentalities, and false and extravagant sketches of life and character. JOSEPH STORY.

The Living Age is published every Saturday, by E. Littell & Co., corner of Tremont and Bromfield sts., Boston; Price 12½ cents a number, or six dollars a year in advance. Postage free. Remittances for any period will be thankfully received and promptly attended to. 1y

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

CURE OF A DISORDERED LIVER AND BAD DIGESTION.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. R. W. Kirkus, Chemist, 7 Prescot-street, Liverpool, dated 6th June, 1851.

To Professor Holloway,

Sir,—Your Pills and Ointment have stood the highest on our sale list of Proprietary Medicines for some years. A customer, to whom I can refer for any enquiries, desires me to let you know the particulars of her case. She had been troubled for years with a disordered liver, and bad digestion. On the last occasion, however, the virulence of the attack was so alarming, and the inflammation set in so severely, that doubts were entertained of her not being able to bear up under it; fortunately she was induced to try your Pills, and she informs me that after the first, and each succeeding dose, she had great relief. She continued to take them, and although she used only three Boxes, she is now in the enjoyment of perfect health. I could have sent you many more cases, but the above, from the severity of the attack, and the speedy cure, I think speaks much in favor of your astonishing Pills. (Signed) R. W. KIRKUS.

AN EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF RHEUMATIC FEVER, IN VAN DIEMAN'S LAND.

Copy of a Letter inserted in the Hobart Town Courier, of the 1st March, 1851, by Major J. Walch.

Margaret M'Connigan, nineteen years of age, residing at New Town, had been suffering from a violent rheumatic fever for upwards of two months, which had entirely deprived her of the use of her limbs; during this period she was under the care of the most eminent medical men in Hobart Town, and by them her case was considered hopeless. A friend prevailed upon her to try Holloway's celebrated Pills, which she consented to do, and in an incredible short space of time they effected a perfect cure.

CURE OF A PAIN AND TIGHTNESS IN THE CHEST AND STOMACH OF A PERSON 84 YEARS OF AGE.

From Messrs. Thew & Son, Proprietors of the Lynn Advertiser, who can vouch for the following statement, —August 2d, 1851.

To Professor Holloway,

Sir,—I desire to bear testimony to the good effects of Holloway's Pills. For some years I suffered severely from a pain and tightness in the stomach, which was also accompanied by a shortness of breath, that prevented me from walking about. I am 84 years of age, and notwithstanding my advanced state of life, these Pills have so relieved me, that I am desirous that others should be made acquainted with their virtues. I am now rendered, by their means, comparatively active, and can take exercise without inconvenience or pain, which I could not do before.

(Signed) HENRY COE, North-street, Lynn, Norfolk.

CHIMNEY PIECES

AND

PIER SLABS,

Manufactured of Stone by the

PENRHYN MARBLE COMANY

THESE CHIMNEY PIECES AND PIER SLABS are new and beautiful articles, superior in appearance and finish to any other in the market; can be made of any dimensions, and are sold at low prices. They are very highly polished, retain their beauty much longer than the common marble, and are not injured or defaced by coal gas, smoke or acids. Since their introduction, a large number have been sold, and have given general satisfaction. The labor required to keep them in good order is very slight, as they do not become discolored like other kinds of marble. The stone used in their manufacture is imported from England, where it is very extensively used for architectural purposes, having been known to last for centuries. It does not partake of the brittleness of common marble being tough, strong and durable, and thus perfectly well adapted for chimney pieces, &c. This stone by a peculiar process, is beautifully enamelled, in imitation of the finest Egyptian—the enamel being so firmly incorporated with the stone that it becomes permanent.

The unequalled polish and appearance of these Chimney Pieces and the confidence with which they have thus far been used, give the fairest evidence that the Penrhyn Marble, by its many advantages, will at no distant day supersede the use of the Egyptian.

Pier Slabs and Shelves for Parlors, Chambers &c., together with bronzed and other kinds of Brackets, of various patterns, furnished to order Architects, Builders, and all others are invited to examine them.
